

The 2010 Conference: How & Why We Create

proudly featuring nationally acclaimed writers

Robert Kaplow

discusses the transition from page to screen of his book Me and Orson Welles.

Grades 8-12

Gordon Korman

author of Swindle; Pop; Schooled; Son of the Mob; Jake; Reinvented; No More Dead Dogs; The 39 Clues #2; and about 80 more!

Grades 4-12

Philip Beard

author of the haunting novel, Dear Zoe, a Borders Original Voices selection

Grades 10-12

Pat Corbitt

television and feature film writer, director, and producer, and author of D.S.E.V.

Grades 10-12

Engaging Workshops on

- Cultural diversity
- Technology & differentiated learning
- Writing across the curriculum
- High-interest books for reluctant readers

Attendees earn
Six Professional Development Hours

Attendees receive a free copy of Philip Beard's unforgettable novel, Dear Zoe.

Authors will be available for signings; vendors will share their newest titles.

Cost is only $24; Students $16
Light breakfast & lunch provided.

Saturday, March 6, 2010
at Montclair State University's beautiful University Hall 8:30 a.m. to 3:30p.m.

Sign up now to avoid being locked out:
www.NJCTE.org
You may pay by cash, check or Paypal!